

"NSC Summer Field Tour" New Directions in Forest Management

June 15-16, 2010

Vanderhoof, B.C.

Welcome!

This summer's field tour of the Northern Silviculture Committee (NSC) workshop is focusing on New Directions in Forest Management. We are promising an interesting agenda, focusing on the idea that we need to develop a fibre based operational model to take full advantage of the increasingly strong demand for various types of fibre along with the traditional sawlog. Our current model of silviculture defined as planting to free growing fails to encourage new opportunities for fibre. Policy changes to provide incentives for silviculture beyond the free growing stage are one of the ways that could be used to encourage enhanced silviculture to provide a source of longer term fibre supply. There will be a combination of indoor and field presentations throughout the first two days, followed by an optional third day of formal brainstorming session to come up with recommendations for policy changes that would encourage enhanced silviculture beyond free growing.
